RECORD OF AMICABLE RESOLUTION FOR THE PURPOSE OF EDPB GUIDELINES 06/2022 ON THE PRACTICAL IMPLEMENTATION OF AMICABLE
SETTLEMENTS VERSION 2.0, ADOPTED 12 MAY 2022

Dated the 18th day of November 2022

Data Protection Commission
21 Fitzwilliam Square South
Dublin 2, Ireland

Background

1. On 30 July 2018, ██████████ (“the Data Subject”) lodged a complaint pursuant to Article 77 GDPR with the Berlin Data Protection Authority (“the Recipient SA”) concerning Coinbase Ireland Limited (“the Respondent”).
2. In circumstances where the Data Protection Commission (“the DPC”) was deemed to be the competent authority for the purpose of Article 56(1) GDPR, the Recipient SA transferred the complaint to the DPC on 14 January 2021.

The Complaint

3. The details of the complaint were as follows:
 - a. The Data Subject requested access to the personal data associated with two accounts created on the Respondent’s service, and then the subsequent erasure of that data.
 - b. The Data Subject was not satisfied with the Respondent’s response.

Action taken by the DPC

4. The DPC, pursuant to Section 109(4) of the Data Protection Act, 2018 (“the 2018 Act”), is required, as a preliminary matter, to assess the likelihood of the parties to the complaint reaching, within a reasonable time, an amicable resolution of the subject-matter of the complaint. Where the DPC considers that there is a reasonable likelihood of such an amicable resolution being concluded between the parties, it is empowered, by Section 109(2) of the 2018 Act, to take such steps as it considers appropriate to arrange or facilitate such an amicable resolution.
5. Following a preliminary examination of the material referred to it by the Recipient SA, the DPC considered that there was a reasonable likelihood of the parties concerned reaching, within a reasonable time, an amicable resolution of the subject matter of the complaint. The DPC’s experience is that complaints of this nature are particularly suitable for amicable resolution in circumstances where there is an obvious solution to the dispute, if the respondent is willing to engage in the process. In this regard, the DPC had regard to:
 - a. The relationship between the Data Subject and Respondent being, in this case, an individual consumer and a service provider; and
 - b. The nature of the complaint in this case, an unsuccessful attempt by the Data Subject to exercise his/her data subject rights.
6. While not relevant to the assessment that the DPC is required to carry out pursuant to Section 109(4) of the 2018 Act, the DPC also had regard to EDPB Guidelines 06/2022 on the practical implementation of amicable settlements Version 2.0, adopted on 12 May 2022 (“Document 06/2022”), and considered that:

- a. the possible conclusion of the complaint by way of amicable resolution would not hamper the ability of the supervisory authorities to maintain the high level of protection that the GDPR seeks to create; and that
- b. such a conclusion, in this case, would likely carry advantages for the Data Subject, whose rights under the GDPR would be vindicated swiftly, as well as for the controller, who would be provided the opportunity to bring its behaviour into compliance with the GDPR.

Amicable Resolution

7. The DPC engaged with both the Data Subject (via the Recipient SA) and Respondent in relation to the subject-matter of the complaint. Further to that engagement, it was established that the Respondent was of the opinion that it had already previously fulfilled the Data Subject's access request. In the circumstances, the Respondent took the following actions:
 - a. The Respondent granted the Data Subject with immediate access to the requested personal data; and
 - b. Confirmed the erasure of the Data Subject's personal data.
8. On 12 October 2021, the DPC outlined the subject matter of the Data Subject's complaint to the Respondent, requesting that it action the Data Subject's access and erasure request and provide a copy of any correspondence exchanged with the Data Subject to the DPC.
9. In response to the DPC, the Respondent asserted that it had previously provided the Data Subject with access to their personal data, but nonetheless confirmed that it had again provided the Data Subject with a copy of the personal data held relating to their accounts. The DPC subsequently received correspondence from the Data Subject via the Recipient SA, stating that while they had now received their personal data they were still awaiting confirmation of their erasure request being actioned. Following further engagement with the Respondent, it provided the DPC with evidence that the Data Subject's erasure request was actioned. The Respondent also confirmed that it had written to the Data Subject, informing them that their erasure request had been actioned.
10. On 6 January 2022, the DPC wrote to the Data Subject via the Recipient SA, outlining the Respondent's response. In the circumstances, the DPC asked the Data Subject to notify it, within two months, if he/she was not satisfied with the outcome, so that the DPC could take further action. The DPC did not receive any further communication from the Data Subject and, accordingly, the complaint has been deemed to have been amicably resolved.
11. In circumstances where the subject-matter of the complaint has been amicably resolved, in full, the complaint, by virtue of Section 109(3) of the 2018 Act, is deemed to have been withdrawn by the Data Subject.

Confirmation of Outcome

12. For the purpose of Document 06/2022, the DPC confirms that:

- a. The complaint, in its entirety, has been amicably resolved between the parties concerned;
- b. The agreed resolution is such that the object of the complaint no longer exists; and
- c. Having consulted with the supervisory authorities concerned on the information set out above, as required by Document 06/2022 the DPC has now closed off its file in this matter.

13. If dissatisfied with the outcome recorded herein, the parties have the right to an effective remedy by way of an application for judicial review, by the Irish High Court, of the process applied by the DPC in the context of the within complaint.
